Introduction

As you may already know, and heard the phrase: traffic is the lifeblood of your business. This is so true when it comes to your online business. When it is all said and done, getting traffic to your website is one of the most primary and essential endeavors that you must take in order to survive. You can never have too much traffic to your website, getting traffic should be a continuous quest that you undertake yourself or outsource it.....

1. Hard work pays off

Building targeted traffic needs to be the first priority in your overall marketing plan. You simply cannot neglect taking the effort of building targeted traffic to your website. It is something that you have to pursue every single day your business is in operation.

2. Mind your SEO (Search Engine Optimization)

The second important thing is that you also want to make sure that your web content is search engine optimized. Optimizing your web content will help boost your site's ranking in the search engines like Google and Yahoo, thus sending you lots of targeted traffic for free. Optimizing your website will consist of having great keywords, quality content and relevant back links to your site.

3. Stay current, stay up to date

When building targeted traffic, you must constantly improve and modify your traffic generation strategy in order to stay current. You have to ensure that your traffic building keeps in pace with what is occurring on the Internet. For that reason, you need to be a student of Internet marketing in order to reap lifetime benefits and rewards from it.
.....

So let's get started, shall we?

Online Traffic Methods

So now it's time to start thinking about different ways to generate relevant traffic to your website. The type of traffic that will put money into your pocket, or into your bank account (if that's your goal). Please note that not every method I list here will work for everybody, nor will they work for every single type of website out there.

But by going through them, and studying each of them, you should be able to pick out a number of methods that WILL work for you. Once you have a list of them ready to try, use them!

.....

1. Get listed in DMOZ.org

Hundreds of Dollars Sent to YOU EVERY WEEK

The absolute first thing to do in your quest for website traffic is to get your website registered and listed in the Open Directory, otherwise known as DMOZ, the grandfather of all website directories. This site is hand-edited though, so this can be either a curse or a blessing.

2. Get listed in other Directories

There are thousands of directories out there, some of them industry specific, some of them not. Do a search for them in Google or one of the other search engines, and then start registering your site with them. Don't spend a huge amount of time with this, but just develop a list of directories to submit to, then each day in your list of activities, register with another directory. It adds up fast and does two things for you. It increases your exposure to people searching for stuff, and it increases the number of links in existence to your site, thus increasing your chances for a high ranking in some of the major search engines that count total Internet links available to each site.

Incredible New System Ten Thousand a Month!

After listing your site in some of the great directories you could then use Fast Directory Submitter this will submit your site to 150 directories free. There is an option to upgrade to submit your site to over 2000 directories.

3. Search Engines

Over half the website traffic that most sites get comes straight from a search engine where someone typed in a keyword, and the search engine spit out a list of sites that include that keyword. Thus, you want to make your website search engine friendly.

It's such a big deal that there is even an entire industry out there built on nothing more than businesses optimizing websites to try to get them the best possible ranking, preferably in the top 10, for whenever someone types in a keyword that describes their site.

The art of website optimizing CAN be made simpler for the average Joe or Jane though. You can do one or all of several things to increase your site rank. You can get good directions or e-books walking you through the process, you can contract with a company that specializes in optimizing and submitting to the search engines, or you can buy software that walks you through optimizing things and then automatically submitting them for you. Basically good optimization starts with Keywords, Content, Back links and Headings.

6. Twitter Marketing

Who doesn't know the famous little blue bird? Celebrities from Oprah to Britney Spears tweet regularly. Heck, even the president of United States has a Twitter account to help promote his campaign. So why wouldn't you?

Twitter is an exceptional force in business, marketing, in social culture. Twitter is a micro-blogging service that enables people to send and read updates, known as tweets.

It is an incredibly simple communication tool built to answer one simple question: "What are you doing?" So all you have to do is answer that simple question. Tell your friends and family that you are a friendly person in business. Are you getting ready for the seminar? Are you cooking for dinner tonight? Are you dieting? Tell them. With Twitter you can generate leads, promote your blog, and probably get a joint venture partner. You just never know. So how do you get followers that may be interested in your tweets and what you have to offer? Simple! Provide useful and free and interesting content and people will start following you, also do a search for other marketers that promote similar products and follow their followers, don't follow too many at a time, try following 20 to 50 because you don't want your account closed. After you've "followed the followers" they will in turn (most of the time) follow you back. Your followers will quickly build up into the thousands and every time you tweet, thousands of people will see it.

Incredible New System Ten Thousand a Month!

Hundreds of Dollars Sent to YOU EVERY WEEK

14. Write / Keep a Blog Site

People like to know what's going on in their fields of interest. And they visit and read sites that update themselves daily with new information. It was an inevitable development as an offshoot of reality TV. People like daily news, development news and progress reports. So what niche are you marketing to? Go start a blog site where you spend 5 or 10 minutes daily logging what you are doing in your quest to become successful. Throw in daily news of developments in your market, new studies, new products, etc and so forth.

23. Write Press / News Releases

Another thing that ezines and news services like is up-to-date news in your market niche. So write news releases for them. This can be real news happening in your market niche, it could be that you are hosting a teleconference with an industry expert, it could be that you are having a huge blowout sale on your website. Just make sure that whatever news it is that you are releasing is something that your readers are going to want to know about. Don't just spam them because the news services will quickly learn to filter out your "news releases" as pure and simple junk mail – which it is if you don't make it relevant and full of good information that your prospects will enjoy knowing. Using the software listed below will instantly send your press releases to thousands of media contacts and provide you with possibly hundreds of back links into your site within days.

32. Traffic Swarm and Other Exchanges

The basic swarm idea here is a combination of ideas. You join a group that all set their homepages to the exchange server. Then the server rotates through each member's ad or homepage each time someone starts their browser up. This means several things to you. In order to be a member, your browser homepage has to be set to their server so they can show you other member ads each time you log onto the Internet. But it also means that every other member also occasionally sees your ad each time they log on too. Exchanges on the other hand, simply swaps Google-Adsense-style ads between each member site, generating more ad views for people generating the most ad clicks within the exchange. Some swarms and exchanges also add a system whereby the more ad pages/sites you personally view from off their server, the more times they'll show your own ad to other people. For some niches, this can be really tedious, but for others, a real gold mine, since frankly, most of the people in each exchange or swarm are looking to sell something, and not necessarily buy. But for the right ad that stands out from the crowd, the other members can be tempted.

34. Viral Marketing

Now this is interesting. The idea is simple yet the reward is a lifetime. You giveaway free offers in exchange for their email address and tell them to spread the news about your free offers. You can giveaway free reports, e-books, software, or anything that can bring great value to your visitors. So don't just offer them some junk or leftovers, they will not appreciate your good intention. Give them something of real value and that they would be proud to pass it on to their contacts. As a greater incentive, consider allowing them to re-brand the report or software with their own website link or affiliate links. You can use viral pdf to get this job done. Once you allow people to re-brand your report with their links, there is no stopping it. Your report will go "Viral"

Hundreds of Dollars Sent to YOU EVERY WEEK

41. Social Bookmarking

Google on "social bookmarking" and glance over all the online places you can set up online bookmark and favorites lists. Add their buttons to your website, and this allows people to back link you in their own online (and often public) bookmark list. And once people bookmark you online, the search engines can find you more often, your back link rating goes up, your search engine rank goes up, and people just browsing through other people's bookmarks can also find you. It's not a bad way to get back links.

49. Document Sharing

Nowadays a lot of people find that sharing information with others on the Internet is quickly becoming the norm. From short Twitter updates that tell your friends what you are doing at the moment, to sharing news on social news websites like Digg.com, to sharing music at Last.fm and Pandora.com that have attracted large audiences from around the world. Document sharing, on the other hand, is shaping up to become a new Internet phenomenon that can benefit journalists, marketers, or even a business team working on a project. Sharing documents is not limited to just plain office documents. You can upload spreadsheets, presentations, and even PDF files. With this kind of technology, documents can be sent to anywhere in this world with just a click. While it's meant for storing your documents on the Internet, document sharing benefits your website as a form of search engine optimization. The document sharing websites that store your documents in a public repository will also be pushing all your documents to search engines like Google. So when people see your documents, they will likely to visit your website.

58. Auction Sites

For some products, auction sites are great places to list them, generate interest (and sales), and flow people back to your own website. For example;

Internet Auction List

Ubid

Ebay

Overstock

Auctionfire

Yahoo Shopping

Webidz

Bidz

Oztion

Believe it or not, you can drive hordes of traffic from auction sites inexpensively. Try eBay for instance. eBay is the grandest, well-known auction sites in the world today.

While it's perfect for auctions, it is also fantastic for generating traffic to your website, and the technique is very easy. eBay allows you to link your images of your merchandise to other website (outside eBay) if it helps in the sale of your auction.

79. Host Teleseminars, Webinars & Teleconferences

Technology in the present day allows people to discover new concepts and even participate in classes without ever having to leave their own bedroom. We now have the tool and the luxury to hold meetings with associates from around the world without ever setting foot in an airport.

Yes, video conferencing, hosting a teleseminar and webinar, or listening to coaching calls (teleconferences) are the latest development in mobile office and rapidly becoming the most popular method of communication in the business world. All you need is a web cam and Internet connection. You can invite your prospects and customers to join you on a live event over the phone or via Internet. If you record the event (you should be!), you can also sell them on DVDs.

91. Text Ad Sites Advertising

Similar to some of the above mentioned safe list sites you have Text Ad sites. These sites provide various advertising formats like Banners, HTML ads, Text ads, Solo ads, Traffic links, Navigation ads and Login ads. These sites are great for getting your site out there and viewed by members and non-members. Today there are many great text ad sites around, here are some of them:

Offline Traffic Methods

98. Offline Big City Newspaper Ads

Big City newspapers carry ads too (New York, Dallas, Los Angeles, etc). And people DO read the ads in them (thousands of people). So try running a product promotion in them, offering a discount for using a promotional code that you mention in your ad, and track what happens. It's amazing sometimes the people that will sometimes read an ad in a newspaper while riding the elevated train or subways, then visit the website mentioned, when they would not have found your site any other way.

Get The Full Version of All 4 Books Here

108. Offline Yellow Pages

Do you still use the yellow pages when looking for a local business? Why isn't your own ad in there? I know it can cost a lot, but especially if you cater to local business, you really need to be listed in the yellow pages of at least a majority of the local yellow-page information suppliers (there's often two or three local competing companies that each print their own phonebook and thus have their own yellow pages).

Hundreds of Dollars Sent to YOU EVERY WEEK

118. Flyers In "Welcome To New Community/etc" Packages

When people buy a new house, the real estate office involved will usually leave them a house warming package with lots of little freebies, ad flyers, and local discount coupons. People moving into a new area will get packages like this sometimes from their place of employment.

People starting a new business always get their business listed in some local business publication, just as a matter of record. Sometimes banks will do the same and give new customers a similar package. Each of these packages can contain your ad flyer. If no one in your community does anything like this yet, start a service for it yourself! Think about it.

120. Product Packaging

This one was a no-brainer that hit me one day and made me stop and wonder why I hadn't thought of it sooner. Of course some people already do it, I just hadn't thought to use it myself yet. Basically, whenever anyone buys anything that has to be manually shipped to them, include flyers, sale information, discount codes for repeat business, and other promotional material in with the shipped product. You'd be surprised at how often these things do get read, and not always by the original buyer. Just try it!

Don't forget your action plan Or rather...Your Action Plans provided on the other pdf documents you downloaded. A Simple Plan, Advanced Plan and Your Master Plan.

These are step by step traffic generating plans based on the above traffic generating methods, with some more information, making them workable and as easy as possible to implement.

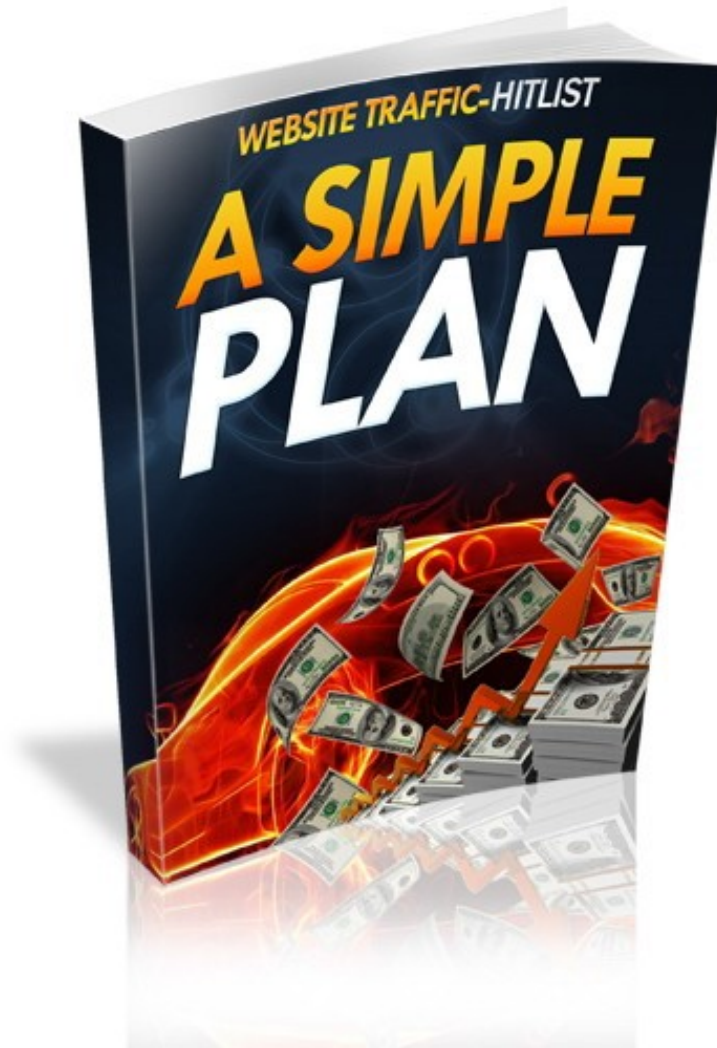

So lets go over to your action plans...

A Simple Plan

Okay, here is your first simple plan for generating a considerable amount of traffic to your web site. I recommend you start with this plan and follow through to the advanced plan and then onto your master plan. Let's get started on...

A Simple Plan

Pick one web site you want more traffic to. Preferably a top-level domain that you own and have complete admin access to.

Optimise your web site:

for the search engines. This is known as Search Engine Optimisation (SEO)
There are four simple ways to optimise your site:

- A. Keywords
- B. Content
- C. Back links
- D. Content headings.

Let's start with Keywords. Use the free Google Keyword Tool to find out what keywords have the most searches and are related to your site's topic. Let's say your site topic is fitness, you are looking for the top keywords in fitness and related to fitness. At the time of writing, the keyword fitness had 37,200,000 searches for the month of January.

Next up are Forums:

Join five of the best, which are:

- Warrior Forum
- Digital Point
- Self Starter Weekly Tips
- Five Star Affiliate Marketing Forums
- Free Advertising Forum

After creating your profile with a link leading back to your site, as soon as you are allowed to do so, create your sig file. This will be visible at the bottom of every post you make and it's purpose it to promote your web site and products. A word about forum marketing (as they call it) In order to be successful here you must be a useful contributor, you won't get very far by spamming the threads with pointless and useless comments. You must provide helpful responses and useful posts. You will eventually gain the respect of other members who will visit your site and view what you have to offer, and be more open to your offer. After a couple of months you will be in a position to run a product promotion ad that will stand a greater chance of success because of the respect you have gained and the knowledge you have provided. Consider forums a long-term investment for revenue, but a quick way to gain website visitors. Obviously the more you join the more traffic you get, but start of with the five listed above first and take it from there.
